

This Week at All Saints'

Email to the Parish from The Venerable Christopher Dunn

19 March 2020

For many years I have sent out this weekly email called, "This Week at All Saints," and each time it lists all the activities and services for the coming week. This is a first though—there is nothing going on—or, in a sense, there is nothing going on.

This Sunday:

On Sunday, I will be posting a video of a worship service that uses the readings for the Fourth Sunday in Lent. Adam and I will be leading. The Church will be a lonely place, but we invite you to join in using this bulletin (<https://www.allsaintswestboro.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/22-March-2020-Fourth-Sunday-of-Lent.pdf>). (We are actually recording this ahead of time, so that I can figure out how to get it uploaded). I will send you the link for Sunday morning later.

Other Things:

- The Westboro Food Bank was open this evening, and it was much quieter than I would have expected. We had 15 households go through, but that number is down from the norm (there were 20 last Monday). We will see what happens next week.
- Helen will be in the office tomorrow from 9:00 to 12:00 noon.
- I am planning to be in at the Church tomorrow (Friday) at 10:30 a.m., to see how the Open Kitchen program goes for those living in the Richmond Motel.
- Then the building is closed all weekend. I will be at the Church on Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m., but more just to check in on things.
- The office will be closed next week because the staff will be working from home. I will be in the office from time to time; so if you need something in particular, please send me a note or give me a call and we will set up a time.

So here is the thing—each year, when we begin the season of Lent, I joke that what I should give up for Lent is meetings. All of a sudden, I have had to give up meetings and I have discovered that I miss gathering together with others. Hum 😞

Take Care,
Chris
